Publication Guidelines of the Revista Andaluza de Medicina del Deporte

Updated in October 2012

GENERAL ASPECTS

The Revista Andaluza de Medicina del Deporte (ISSN: 1888-7546) is the official publication of the Centro Andaluz de Medicina del Deporte (Andalusian Center for Sports Medicine) (Organization dependent on the Ministry of tourism, Commerce and Sports, Board of Andalusia). Its periodicity is four times a year. Those original works, submitted exclusively to the Journal, which are related with Sciences of Sports, will be considered. All the original contributions will be evaluated anonymously (double blind) by external expert reviewers designated by the Editor. The manuscripts should be written in accordance with the recommendations of the International Committee of Medical Journal Editors available at http://www.icmje.org/faq.pdf

SUBMISSION OF MANUSCRIPTS

The manuscripts should be submitted electronically through the Elsevier Editorial System (EES) at the address http://ees.elsevier.com/ramd, which contains the information needed for their submission. This resource makes it possible to follow the status of the manuscript through the web page. The manuscript should be accompanied by a cover letter written in the section of Enter Comments of the EES.

COVER LETTER

Every manuscript must be accompanied by a cover letter that will be included in the Attach Files section of the EES, in which, in addition to the title of the work, the following should be indicated: 1) The section of the journal where the author wants to publish the work. 2) Statement that the work is original and is not being evaluated by any other scientific journal. 3) Explanation, in one paragraph at most, about the original contribution and importance of the work in the area of the journal. 4) Statement that the authors have taken into consideration the “Ethical Responsibilities” included in these guidelines. 5) Declaration of any grant (technical or economical) from an institution. 6) Statement by the signing authors that they fulfill the requirements of authorship (declaring the degree of participation is optional) in accordance with that stated in the section “Authorship” of these guidelines and in accordance with that which the authors have declared in the EES. 7) If part of the article has been published previously in another journal (redundant or duplicated publication), the details should be stated herein and the author should declare that he/she has obtained the necessary permissions from the corresponding editor. 8) The statement at this point by each one of the authors of the existence or not of conflict of interests and the confirmation of their declaration in the section of Additional Information of the EES.

OBLIGATIONS OF THE AUTHOR

1. Ethical responsibilities

Protection of persons and animals. When experiments conducted in human beings are described, it must be indicated what procedures followed are in accordance with the ethical guidelines of the committee responsible for human experimentation (institutional or regional) and with the World Medical Association and the Declaration of Helsinki available at: http://www.wma.net/en/30publications/10policies/b3/.

Confidentiality. The author must assure that the requirement of having informed all the patients enrolled in the study has been met and that their written informed consent to participate in it has been obtained.

Privacy. Furthermore, the author is responsible for assuring the right to privacy of the patients, protecting their identity both in the writing of the article and in the images.

2. Funding

The authors must declare the origin of any economic help received, acknowledging if the research has received financing from the US National Institutes of Health or if any of the authors belong to the Howard Hughes Medical Institute.

3. Authorship

In the list of authors, only those persons who have intellectually contributed to the development of the work and who have significantly participated in its design and development should be listed.

4. Conflict of interests

Conflict of interest exists when the author had/has a financial or personal relation that could have biased or influenced their work inadequately.

5. Obtaining of permissions

The authors are responsible for obtaining the pertinent permissions to partially reproduce material (text, tables or figures) from other publications.

6. Redundant or duplication publication

The journal does not accept previously published material and will not consider manuscripts for publication that are simultaneously submitted to other journals or redundant or duplicated publications.

PUBLISHING PROCESS

The author, starting from the day when a registry number is assigned, which will be received together with the acknowledgement of receipt of the article, can consult its status within the EES and will be able to know the resolution given in no more than six months.

If accepted, the author responsible for the correspondence will receive a galley proof of the article. The proof should be reviewed and any possible errors marked, returning the corrected proofs to the journal editors in no more than 48 hours. If these proofs are not received within the period established, the Editorial Board will not take responsibility for any error or omission that may be published. In this editing stage of the manuscript, the corrections introduced should be minimum (erratas). The editorial board reserves the right to accept or not accept the corrections made by the authors in the printed proof.

TRANSFER OF COPYRIGHT

1. Guarantees and assignment of intellectual property rights.

The author guarantees that the works submitted to Elsevier España, S.L. for publication in this Journal or in any product derived from it are original, unpublished and of his/her authorship. Furthermore, the author guarantees, under his/her responsibility, that he/she holds all the rights of exploitation on the works. The author also guarantees that the works submitted to Elsevier España, S.L. do not breach the rules of protection of personal data.

2. Assignment of exploitation rights.

The authors exclusively transfer all the exploitation rights derived from the works that are accepted for publication in the Journal, for all the exploitation modalities for a worldwide territorial scope and for the entire legal duration of the rights foreseen in the currently in force Intellectual Property Law Consolidated Text to the Centro Andaluz de Medicina del Deporte (Andalusian Center for Sports Medicine) with power to transfer to third parties. Consequently, the author cannot totally or partially publish or disseminate the works that are selected for their publication in the Journal, or authorize their publication to third parties, without the specific prior compulsory approval, granted in writing, from the Centro Andaluz de Medicina del Deporte.

EDITORIAL POLICY

The judgments and opinions expressed in the articles and communications published in the Journal are exclusively those of the author(s). The editorial team and Elsevier España decline any responsibility regarding the material published.

The Direction of the RAMD does not take responsibility in regard to the concepts, opinions or statements held by the authors of their works. The authors should consult a current issue of the journal in case any modification is made in the publication rules.
